

Donkey Orchid (Diuris sp.)

Did you know?

Donkey Orchids are named for their two long upper petals which look like donkey ears. They are brightly coloured, possibly mimicking nectar-producing flowers in order to attract pollinating insects.